FOUNDER'S MESSAGE

With great pleasure, I welcome you all to Arunachal University of Studies. Over the past decade, this university has excelled marvels in all streams unimaginable and I believe that is our responsibility to foster a culture of scientific inquiry and critical thinking among our students, staff, and faculty. This year is one-of-a-kind academic timeline for all of us, as the University has dedicated a year marching forward towards more scientific research with a pedagogy unlocking the best empirical temperament in students.

In this day and age, science and innovation have changed each part of our lives, from the manner in which we convey and work to the manner in which we travel and engage ourselves. The developments and disclosures made by researchers and specialists have reformed the world and prepared for a superior future. At the same time, we also face numerous socio-economic challenges and to address these challenges, we need to embrace a scientific temperament that emphasizes rationality, evidence-based decision-making, and a willingness to question assumptions.

माता भूमिः पुत्रोहं पृथिव्याः

Earth is my mother and I am her child.

Atharvaveda 12.1.12

Here at AUS, we do not limit scientific temperament just to the scientists or researchers. We nurture the mindset of each student to be applicable in all aspects of our lives, from personal relationships to professional careers. It is about being open-minded, curious, and willing to learn from others. As an educator, it is my responsibility to instil these values in our students. I encourage them to think critically, question, and develop the skills necessary to evaluate evidence and draw rational conclusions. This also includes investing in research and development, providing access to state-of-the-art facilities and equipment, and creating opportunities for collaboration among students, faculty, and industry partners.

At this university, we offer a range of courses and programs that emphasize critical thinking, scientific inquiry, and evidence-based decision-making. To ensure that our students are equipped with the skills necessary to succeed in the 21st century, we have also incorporated emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence, and machine learning into our curriculum. We also encourage our students to engage in research and development activities.

As we look to the future, we should likewise perceive the significance of internationally coordinated efforts in advancing a logic-driven scientific atmosphere. The global difficulties and inadequacies we face today require international exertion via academic collaboration, and it is just through participation and coordinated effort that we can invent and offer feasible arrangements. To conclude, I would like that students to be responsible as individuals and as contributing members of society. Let us work together to create a better world through the power of science and technology.

Thank you. Jai Hind.

FACULTY OF SKILL DEVELOPMENT & VOCATIONAL STUDIES

Faculty of Skill Development & Vocational Studies

The Government of Arunachal Pradesh established Arunachal University of Studies as a state skill university for providing high quality education supplemented with industrial internship and professional training in various areas of studies. As per the reports of NSDC by 2021 around 6 Lakh people of the state will be unemployed. Complying with the legislative directives, the university established FSDVS in 2012. FSDVS is offering employment-centric, capacity building and training related Programme for skill & entrepreneurship development of the youth. FSDVS is also assisting the students of vocational education to transfer already earned formal/ in-formal/ vocational credits into the formal education system and vice-versa.

National Skill Qualification Framework (NSQF)

FSDVS has adopted all levels of NSQF which was notified by the Ministry of Finance in 2013 for providing common reference framework for linking various vocational qualifications, setting common principles and guidelines for a nationally recognized qualification system & standards and providing course curriculum under competency-based framework that organizes all qualifications according to a series of levels of knowledge, skills and aptitude. NSQF is a quality assurance framework to integrate regular education with competency-based skill education for multiple pathways, horizontal as well as vertical, both with in classroom sessions and practical training and among vocational education & training, general education and technical education.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

In a country like ours where a majority of the workforce has not received formal training, RPL is a very important associated function of the NSQF which helps individuals, who have gained learning informally, i.e. through life, work and voluntary activities to get this learning recognized. RPL assessment and certification is one such unique process that enables candidates to align their existing competencies with the NSQF and continue their formal education. RPL also helps them explore different options in skilling and upskilling to bridge the knowledge and skill gaps.

University Industry Inter Linkage Centre (UILC)

In compliance of UGC notifications, UILC was established by FSDVS in 2015. The significance of university-industry interactions has become an important agenda of higher education on policy-making front at both national and international levels. FSDVS aims to have such collaborations with the industries for ensuring better skill development of candidates during the period of studies. FSDVS is actively working on fulfilling this need by creating and operating suitable collaborative arrangements with other Institutions and industries for promoting the University-Industry interactions in higher education.

CSR Project of Employability Enhancement

World Education Mission, which is also the sponsoring body of the AUS has been assigned many CSR projects funded by reputed organizations to FSDVS for skill training in various sectors. The training will enhance the employability prospectus of the youth of Arunachal Pradesh.

Charter

Charter signifies for grant of privilege to formally recognize the grantee's existing competencies obtained formally or informally which includes academic or non-academic or work experience. The privileges of charter are assigned by the authority based on evaluation for conferring a certification equivalent to formal academic qualification to the grantee. The AUS is duly authorized to impart NSQF aligned Charter Certification for the purpose of enhancing employable skills amongst trainees. Charter can be earned at a pace, convenience and capability of the trainees. Being NSQF aligned certificate, charter can be equated with corresponding level of formal education and alternatively accepted as base qualification for enrolment in formal Programme offered by AUS.

NEEM - National Employability Enhancement Mission

University - Industry - Interlinkage - Centre (UILC)

All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) has appointed Arunachal University of Studies as its National Employability Enhancement Mission (NEEM) Facilitator for the Northeast Region. The NEEM Scheme has instituted AUS as the registered NEEM facilitator for providing On Job Training (OJT)/practical training to less privileged youth by the active collaboration of Industry by preparing them to be capable enough to find subsequent employment post completion of the training tenure successfully. This pioneering venture is to not just provide OJT to students but also counter the issues concerning skilled labour scarcity in India. Under the NEEM scheme, every candidate shall be given a stipend for the willingness to study under the initiative.

Arunachal University of Studies as a NEEM facilitator is the nexus between the industry and student. We at AUS are thoroughly working towards holistically bridging the humongous gap between the availability of skilled resources and the rapidly changing industrial demands. Moreover, to do this, we are primarily focused on generating skill-based human resources by placing special emphasis on the On Job Training so that student gain a very dynamic and productive industry penetration.

Namsai alone caters to nearly 12 important districts of eastern Arunachal Pradesh which covers around 50% area and 55% population of the state. AUS is the only University available to cater to the higher education needs of the eastern part of the country. Despite the geographical distances, the people of the region are aware of the University and its programmes offered. Besides, ever since the university's establishment, a distinctive impart of quality education for the youth including marginalized sections of the society has been witnessed. Therefore AUS objective now looks forward to encouraging the underprivileged youth (irrespective of gender, caste, religion, region, creed, and socio-economical) to grab apprenticeship based on respective preferences to improve their skills and get jobs in the sector.

AUS has always been the forefront On Job Training provider in the state of Arunachal Pradesh. Earlier, University-Industry Inter-Linkage Centre (UILC) was launched in the year 2014 under the Faculty of Skill Development and Vocational Studies following the University Grants Commission (UGC) communication vide reference D.O. No.F.1-14/2015 (CPP-II). The sole purpose of UILC was to offer practical and on the job training to enhance the industrial absorption of the youth of the state of Arunachal Pradesh.

Arunachal Pradesh due to its geographic conditions poses has one of the toughest challenges of the country with respect to growth. Lack of industry, basic infrastructure, feasibility, connectivity etc. is just a few of the constraints that need to be tackled immediately. However, despite all the laybacks, Arunachal Pradesh has enormous potential in tourism, healthcare services, education/skill development, handloom & handicrafts, food processing etc. and AUS desperately wishes to change the overall employment pattern of the state

The University always had a vision in creating an ecosystem that would bring back the dignity of labour in all profession by creating sustainable sources of wage for every deserving youth in this country. AUS stands in pride in becoming part of the reputed NEEM scheme under the Government of India and looks forward to the training workforce in Arunachal Pradesh as per the requirements, ensuring that they get absorbed in the industry based on their skills.

NAVSRIJAN (Directorate of Continuing Education)

“Navsrijan” is a Sanskrit word meaning novelty. Navsrijan – education above all initiative, is a social educational scheme of the Directorate of Continuing Education, Arunachal University of Studies. Navsrijan was devised by Late Prof. G.N. Pandey, the Founding Vice-Chancellor of the University. It is a unique initiative that generates an opportunity for school dropout students to re-enter mainstream education following the National Skill Qualification Framework of the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India.

Objectives of the Navsrijan Scheme is as follows:

1. To facilitate dropout students to continue their education, by way of providing bridge courses, Pre-University Programme and Graduation etc.
2. To improve teaching facilities and increase the number of registration in Commerce and Science streams
3. To improve the level of education and the passing percentage of students.
4. To conduct active students/teachers interaction on regular basis.
5. To ensure that the successful students continue their higher education into the university or other institution of higher learning

The state of Arunachal Pradesh has been exponentially developing in the field of education with a vivid focus on expansion, equity, and excellence. Hence, Arunachal University of Studies has introduced the “Navsrijan Scheme” with an effort to reach unprivileged population living in remote areas of the State and to bring equity amongst the society.

The university is making determined efforts to ensure quality education across the state to provide education to the regular and discontinued youth belonging to all sections with an emphasis on lower socio-economic sections of the society. Arunachal Pradesh being a land of positive diversities equally faces severe challenges in terms of its topography, roads connectivity, electricity supply, internet connectivity, etc. As per the 2011 census, the overall literacy rate of the State is 65.38, were male: female literacy rate is 72.55%: 52:53%, which is far below the national average.

AUS believes that the bigger challenge that needs to be addressed is the students' dropout rates, which is up to 80% at secondary and senior secondary level. Hence, to do this, the Ministry of Minority Affairs, Government of India, has confirmed the enrolment of Nai Manzil Scheme under the Navsrijan Scheme of Directorate of Continuing Education of Arunachal University of Studies.

The schemes ensure to get wider publicity and has been addressing challenges in terms of the failing academic standards of the state. AUS through the Navsrijan schemes advocates providing adequate learning resources through the delivery of highly qualified and competent faculty members, well-equipped classroom infrastructure and a holistic approach to the teaching pedagogy.
